Overview

Lile's Business Relocation Services Division was approached by Peace Health Medical Group to assume responsibility for a complex move. An out of state contractor's failure to meet moving dates meant that Lile was the only local company with the ability to scale to the size of the relocation. With less than 30 days notice, Lile's team of relocation specialists developed a plan for relocating 10 clinics and the Urgent Care unit from the University District and Willamette Street locations to the newly constructed five-story Pavilion at the Riverbend Campus in Springfield, Oregon. The relocation was highly visible in the community, and it was critical that the move be completed within the time frame the customer had established and with no interruption in services.

Lile set up a transition team with Peace Health team leaders to collectively develop a phased relocation with established start and completion times for each clinic. Time critical equipment and employees were relocated using dedicated trucks working within the larger structure of the phased moves. To meet the timeline required by Peace Health, Lile's Business Relocation Division leveraged crew and moving equipment from Lile's regional branches in Oregon and Washington. The Urgent Care move was the last phase of the relocation and was performed in a six-hour period between 10:00 PM and 4:00 AM.

Lile's web-based warehousing and inventory management services were utilized for receiving and warehousing of medical equipment and office fixtures for the Pavilion. Prior to the move-in date, Lile delivered and installed these items into the building and coordinated with the vendors and purchasing managers to sign off on delivery and installation.
